

"OVERSEAS" CHRISTMAS FOR TWO MILLIONS OF UNCLE SAM'S SOLDIERS

NEARLY A QUARTER OF MILLION DOUGH-BOYS WILL WELCOME "PEACE ON EARTH" ON ENEMY SOIL

RED CROSS HELPS CELEBRATION

By WEBB MILLER

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

AMERICAN HEADQUARTERS IN GERMANY, Dec. 24.—With the spirit of peace on earth good will toward men two million American soldiers will enjoy a really merry Christmas on German and French soil today. In the back areas the holiday feast will be elaborate, while in the advance areas most of the Christmas boxes failed to arrive in spite of the best efforts of the transportation units, but the Red Cross and the Y. M. C. A. are rushing special trains loaded with boxes in an effort to get them here in time for the celebration. While the true Christmas spirit prevails the doughboys' minds are centered on the one thing, the little family group back home. More than 220,000 Americans will spend their Christmas in Germany, where one of the strangest situations in history exists. Two races which a few weeks ago were engaged in mortal combat cooperated in the celebration today. Throughout German territory the inhabitants are preparing to aid in the celebration and their sentiments are sincere.

HUNGARIAN MINISTRY IS PEEVED

By United Press

BERLIN, (Delayed.)—The Hungarian ministry was reported today to have declared its opposition to the occupancy of Hungary by the Allies. The ministers are understood to have asked the Allies if they intended to occupy the entire country, threatening to resign in a body if the answer is affirmative.

Count Karolyi, Hungarian Premier, was reported recently to have announced his intention to resign, owing to the unstable political situation. As regarding the occupation the French entered Budapest several weeks ago.

MORE U-BOATS COMING IN

By United Press

LONDON, Dec. 24.—Fifty more German submarines including some of the larger type, will be surrendered soon, it was learned today. They were either not completed or out of commission when the other U-boats were surrendered last month.

The surrender of 50 additional submarines will bring the total turned over to the Allies to 174, which exceeds the number believed to have been in Germany's possession.

REVOLTING GERMAN MARINES IN BATTLE

By FRANK J. TAYLOR

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

BERLIN, (Delayed.)—Mutinous marines who revolted when ordered to sea are entrenched in the Royal Palace here after a battle with the military guards. On receiving their orders to sea regiments of the marines rioted, kidnapping the military commander of the ship and holding him prisoner. In the fighting which ensued four marines were killed and ten wounded.

KAISERIN'S CONDITION NOT SERIOUS

By United Press

AMERGONE, (Delayed.)—The condition of the former Kaiserin is not serious despite reports to the contrary from Berlin, according to a statement issued from Count von Bentinck's castle today.

Recent reports said that the former Kaiserin was critically ill with heart disease.

CHANCELLOR EBERT FEARS POLAND

(By United Press)

BERLIN, Dec. 23. (Delayed.)—Chancellor Ebert fears the result of Poland's aspirations in eastern Prussia, it was learned today. It is also assumed, he declares, that France will annex the left bank of the Rhine. Trouble between Poland and Germany resulted in Germany trying to spread Bolshevik doctrine in Poland. Count Kessler, German minister who was expelled from Warsaw told the United Press today, "We are more anti-Bolshevik than Poland."

AN AMSTERDAM NUISANCE

—N. Y. Evening Telegram

CHRISTMAS

By John W. Nipson, Jr.

Awake be glad this Christmas day,
When all men's hearts are light and gay—
Let children sing a merry song,
Join in and pass the joy along.

Let earth her sweetest songs employ
To welcome him who comes with joy
Children with faces bright with mirth
Sing and proclaim the Christ-Child's birth.

And Sages, Shepherds Prophets, all,
Harken'd to the wondrous call,
Left their labor, journeying far,
Led onward by His natal star.

Sweet songs of praise to Him did sing,
And tribute to Him all did bring
He was the world and all to them,
This little Babe of Bethlehem

So sound His praise with joy and mirth,
Let earth proclaim the Savior's birth
Peace on the earth, good will to men,
The Angel legions sing again.

BETHLEHEM CHRISTMAS PAGEANT

The Bethlehem Christmas Pageant to be given at the Lutheran church between the hours of 7 and 8 o'clock, Wednesday evening promises to be a real treat for all who will attend. The cast is composed of forty people decked out in beautiful costumes and the affair will be really away above the average entertainment of this character. The tableau effects are highly pleasing.

Everybody cordially invited to attend.

MAY WEAR UNIFORM AFTER DISCHARGE

Enlisted men who are discharged from the service will be allowed to wear the regulation uniform of the United States army for three months after their discharge says The Bayonet. In this connection it has been pointed out that if the uniform is worn at all it must be worn in its entirety. The dress requirements of the discharged soldier during the period that he wears the service uniform will be the same as those now in effect at Camp Lee and other cantonments.

For instance, it was explained that a man will not be allowed to wear military coat and pants with civilian overcoat, or vice versa; neither will he be permitted to wear army shoes or campaign hat in connection with civilian dress. The collar insignia buttons, designating the area of the service to which the soldier has been connected must be worn in their proper places.

When a soldier is given his discharge, said an officer who is familiar with the plans of demobilization, he is released from military service, but, to a certain degree, he is held to be amenable to military discipline. Military courtesies that have been demanded of him during his service, such as the saluting of superior officers, will be expected of him as long as he wears the uniform, regardless of the discharge.

These disclosures, no doubt, will upset the plans of many soldiers who expect early divorce from the service, because certain parts of the uniform have appealed to their fancy, and they intended making these articles of wearing apparel a part of their civilian dress. The fact that the men will not be allowed to wear an army overcoat with a civilian suit will cause general disappointment. The regulation overcoat which is provided by the government is recognized to be far superior in quality to most of the civilian garments offered on the market, and it was hoped that they could be retained and worn without any restrictions.

Discharged soldiers also will be required to look carefully after their personal appearance while they are wearing the uniform. There will be no relaxation of the rule that a soldier must be neat and clean in appearance, and as far as the application of this rule is concerned the discharged man will be considered as a soldier in the service as long as he wears the uniform.

BOY ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

Thomas Conoway, aged 13 years, was accidentally shot and instantly killed on Catawact hill Monday morning between 10 and 11 o'clock. The lad was with hunting brother 8 years old, was out hunting with a double barreled shot gun. The younger lad arrived home with the gun at 11 o'clock and announced to his parents that Tom had been shot. The boy was dead when help arrived.

DEER SEASON WAS HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL

State Game Protector E. Woody Kelley, of DuBois, was a Clearfield visitor today. In conversation with The Progress man he said their records showed a total of 177 lawful bucks killed in Clearfield county during the deer season just closed.

He says the State Game Commission and hunters generally are greatly pleased with the deer law as at present constituted and looks for a large increase of deer in Pennsylvania so long as the law remains as it is.

Mr. Kelly informed us that the Game commission had arranged to secure twenty-five deer from the park of John E. DuBois, located near DuBois. These deer will be driven out of the park and allowed to locate themselves in the woods surrounding same.

A number of deer will also be secured at Westover and twenty-five will be purchased of a man named Cummings who owns a deer park in Berks county.

In addition to these the Game Commission has arranged to secure a number of deer in North Carolina and Mr. Kelley and several other State Protectors will go down into the Tar Heel state shortly after the first of the year to trap these deer and ship them to Pennsylvania. They will be placed in the three or four new game preserves created during the past year.

The Game Protectors found a big bull elk on the mountains near the Panther camp which had been injured in some way during the past summer and are taking care of the animal in Kennedy Park reserve, Doctor Ed. Selfridge looking after it. The big fellow was about all in when found and did not object strenuously when Kelley and his helpers drove him into the wagon shed at Frank Johnson's and then roped and threw him to examine his injured hip.

There were quite a few does killed in the county by reckless hunters and a number of these violators of the law have been called upon to settle while several others are on the schedule for an early rounding up.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

The granting of woman suffrage in Finland was followed by the election to the Finnish parliament in 1907 of nineteen women—the first women to sit in any national legislative body.

There has just been opened in Switzerland a university for the better training of women for professional occupations. Besides the technical training, the university will have special social and household training courses for women and girls who do not intend taking up professional work or business professions, but only desire to increase their proficiency in these departments for the benefit of their families and the community.

Queen Alexandra's favorite jewels are rubies and diamonds a preference in which, perhaps may be traced a sentiment of affection for the color of her native land, for red and white are the Danish colors, and loyal as she is to her adopted country, the "sea king's daughter" has never forgotten that she is a daughter of Denmark. Her Majesty's favorite perfumes are the delicious Ess Bouquet and the old English lavender water prepared by the firm which has been "the royal perfumers" since the days when George the Third was king.

The Queen Mother of Italy who is expected to play a conspicuous part in the entertainment of the President and Mrs. Wilson on the occasion of their visit to Rome has been proclaimed the most beautiful queen in the world, and the most cultured, gracious and loveliest as well. She knows French, German, English, Spanish, Italian, of course, and Latin thoroughly. She knows Greek well and is familiar with the literature of all ages. In Rome she takes an intense interest in the social life of the court; in her country place at Monza she is a country woman; in the Alps she is a hardy climber as the Tyrolese, going over glaciers, along narrow paths or to the edge of a precipice with charming indifference. She is a great lover of flowers, fine old lace and rare jewels.

Corporal Francis B. Snively, who was in training at Camp Greenleaf, Ga., and Lt. Earl B. Snively, who was in the aviation service at Richfield, Waco, Texas, arrived home this morning to visit their parents, Rev. and Mrs. C. C. Snively at the West Side M. E. parsonage.

CAPTAIN T. E. C. S. PLEASANT WITH

Captain and Mrs. T. E. C. S. are spending the winter at St. Petersburg, Fla., and the Captain gives the following impressions of the place in the following letter:

St. Petersburg, Florida

My Dear Connelly:

I promised you a letter. So here you are. "Driven from home" by a corporation "without a soul."

Our trip to this sunshine city was one of pleasure and the city is well named, Sunshine City. The daily independent newspaper, which gives every subscriber the latest news every day the sun don't shine, I am told during the year they gave the paper free but not the news.

Congressman C. H. Rowland was at the Washington depot when sleeping car reservations and after an hour spent dining in a restaurant we left Washington at 8:30 p. m. December 12th. Our trip consisted of two nights and two days and we arrived here Saturday evening at 10 o'clock. We are very nicely situated at the "Dusenbury Villa" where at least one hundred northern tourists are stopping, principally old people. We have a large room on the first floor, on the European plan, and I were to tell you how cheap we live here, you would hardly believe me. Barring my room rent I don't think it will cost any more than my steam heat had we remained in Clearfield. Grape fruit sells at 40 cents a dozen, oranges at 20 cents, and all other fruits and vegetables reasonably. In our dining room all meats are 50 cents, and all vegetables 5 cents, coffee, tea or milk 10 cents. I merely mention this to show how cheap eats are compared with Clearfield.

Our home here is on the beautiful style, first and second floors. The Dusenbury villa is across the street from Williams Park, which takes in about 4 Clearfield blocks. The trees and flowers in the park are in full bloom. A regular bower of cultivated plants. All kinds of outdoor sports and free to the public. Baseball, foot ball, croquet, pitching, tennis, etc. They also have an enclosure under a thatched roof where a lot of old geese like myself, are playing checkers, dominoes, pinocle, etc. A brass band that plays afternoons and evenings to amuse the immense crowds that gather daily.

The city ordinance is a little tough on "Booze Histers". One hundred dollars fine and one year in the jailhouse if found drunk on the street. I haven't seen a drunk since I came here.

We have called on a few Clearfielders, Mrs. Banta and daughter who have rooms at the Shell House, a beautiful spot overlooking Tampa Bay. Both ladies are well and expect Mr. Banta in a few days. Past Conklin and Dave Anderson are doing well from their looks. We expect to visit Pinellas Park and meet a lot of Clearfield folks.

We are enjoying every minute in this beautiful Sunshine City and it is well named. This morning after breakfast I sat on our front porch at 8 o'clock and old Sol was shining brightly. The thermometer marked 66 in the shade and at 2 o'clock it was 80.

A celebrated doctor of Clearfield gave me this advice before I left home: "A good big dose of southern sunshine, mixed with a little moonshine, well shaken before taken, is good for the soul." I am taking plenty of sunshine but small doses of the latter.

Tampa Bay is 22 miles in length and at each end of the bay are the twin cities of St. Petersburg and Tampa. Four of us spent a day on the bay fishing, which is my fad. We hired a motor boat and went down the bay 10 miles. Our catch was 75 fish of about a dozen varieties. Primarily sea bass and mackerel but not gamey like our bass and salmon up north. A 2 pound bass on Pine creek would give an angler more sport than our whole catch of 75 fish here. However the outing was a novelty to us. We enjoyed it hugely. It is too dirty in the season for the big game fish. Tarpon, drum and blue fish come into the bay later.

Kind regards to all our Clearfield friends

Very respectfully

T. E. C.

TUESDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 24, 1918.

Merry Christmas!

Candy at a dollar a pound is not so likely to cause a tummy ache—consolation.

The suddenness with which peace dawned upon us has rather baffled the idea that we had of a peace time Christmas. Withal we are satisfied and contented. We hear no complaint from the many homes where the loved ones in the mighty and righteous conflict. In fact they are proud homes and homes which will always stand marked in the community as sacred places. Those who have sons and husbands "over there" are happy in the thought that they are soon to return. A peace time Christmas may not be quite so boisterous and riotous as we at first thought it would be but it will be no less glorious and happy.

There never was a better time to get acquainted with the Golden Rule than at this season of the year and particularly the home between now and waking time tomorrow morning. Many of us have the mistaken idea that our war time prosperity has eliminated all misery and want when we believe a careful canvass of our city would reveal many homes which could use a little Christmas cheer, candles, toys, and fruits. Unfortunately a sense of pride and timidity prevents many people from making known their true economic condition. While it is doubtful whether there are any in want of plain food or warmth there is no doubt but that some trees will look a little scanty. Now Santa never meant it to be that way and it is up to every Clearfielder tonight to think of his near neighbors and if there be the slightest suspicion that Santa has not heard of them, get him the word some way. You can do it. Do it and see how you enjoy yourself tomorrow.

MAY NOT BE NECESSARY

The one big legal show of the year has been postponed. Ever since our courts have been burdened with the ignominious duty of passing on the applications for liquor license there has been more or less interest at the time of the holding of the annual license court and the people of the battle kept eyes smarting for several weeks afterward. This year everything is rosy, that is for the present time at least. Not so, however, for those members of the legal fraternity who present the petitions and the arguments for license. The hotelmen welcome the postponement. It will not only be necessary for them to lay out the price of the asking but it is decided one way or the other that J. Barleycorn is down and out for sure or whether he will rally after being flogged by the demands for war time efficiency.

Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California has delivered an address in the senate giving his conclusions from a thoughtful study of the Russian situation that should receive the careful consideration of every thinking American. Our country has been surfeited with accounts of bloody massacres in Moscow, Petrograd, and other Russian centers, of intrigues between the Bolsheviks and Germany, of the fierce opposition of the Soviet government to all intervention in Russia from the United States, and of the horrible conditions of cold, starvation, and general misery brought upon the Russian labor classes as a result of the corruption, incompetence, and mismanagement of the present regime. Senator Johnson has gone into the subject in the press in a search for the truth, and the facts that he presents and the conclusions that he draws are startling in the extreme.

The chief of Mr. Johnson's discussion of the Russian situation is that, if possible, some statement from our government as to its policy in that beleaguered country. "I wish to know," says the senator, "the country's attitude at this time to the Russian people and what our sons are fighting for on Russian soil." Dile-gent private inquiry has failed to give him light on the subject, and the Senator hopes by public presentation of the matter to bring an authoritative statement from the officials.

In spite of the fact that the Administration has repeatedly, explicitly, and emphatically denied any intention to interfere with the political sovereignty of Russia, her internal affairs, or her territorial integrity, the press reports tell us of battles between American soldiers and Russian soldiers, precisely like encounters between two hostile peoples. Not only have our military forces invaded the country, but we have explicitly permitted the German army to remain in occupancy of the captured Russian provinces, the original terms of the armistice being changed so to provide.

Although the tenets of the Bolsheviks are in direct opposition to the principles of German imperialism, Senator Johnson suspects there has been a propaganda to create the impression that the Germans and Bolsheviks are in collusion against the Allies. He refers to "the Creel Committee's labored efforts to demonstrate that the Bolsheviks are German agents," and hints at transactions between the Soviet government and our own that have never been told. He asks if it is true that our Government refused permission to the Red Cross to send supplies to Russia for the relief of returning Russian prisoners, 60 per cent. of whom were suffering from tuberculosis—"these the soldiers who held the Hun in check for two years and saved civilization." He hints that our State Department disapproved recommendations from the American and British ambassadors to Russia for cooperation with the Soviet government. Information on these and other matters Senator Johnson says is not in possession of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, whose members are quite as much in the dark concerning them as he.

Senator Johnson declares he does not want to see America engaged in the "stabilization" of governments by hostile invasion and overpowering military force. "I want no policy in our Republic," says he, "of subjugating or subduing nations or peoples who do not think as we do." His remarks in connection with that statement of principle are most illuminating and present a view of the Russian question that has not been discussed by the press of the country. Those who take an interest in Russian affairs and our attitude toward them will do well to send to Senator Johnson for a copy of his speech.

To All Hotel and Restaurant Managers:

You are advised that, effective Monday, December 23rd, all present Administration regulations and restrictions governing hotel and restaurant trade are rescinded and withdrawn.

A. D. BIGLER,

Federal Food Administrator for Clearfield County.

OBITUARY

BROTHER AND SISTER DIE

James Brown Wilson died at his home in Decatur township on December 17th, 1918, death resulting from influenza which later developed into pneumonia. He was 39 years of age and is survived by his sorrowing widow and seven children, his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson, of Decatur, two brothers, William B. and Robert of Windber, Pa., and his sister Mrs. Robert Paterson of Decatur. He was interested in church matters and was an active worker in connection with the Christian Alliance church at Coal Run. He was an exemplary citizen and was highly respected by the community in which he lived. He was buried in Umbria cemetery at Osceola Mills on December 20th. Rev. E. J. Biddle, of Tyrone conducting services at the late home and at the grave.

Additional sadness attaches to this death because it followed so soon from the same disease the demise of his sister, Mrs. Thomas Davidson, the Friday previous, December 13th, who lived nearby, and who leaves a husband, three small children.

WILLIAM JOSEPH HUNT

William Joseph Hunt, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. H. Hunt, Carnwath, died of pneumonia December 19, 1918. "Billy," as he was commonly called, was but two years, 2 months, and 19 days old, and was one of the sweetest little boys that the writer has ever known. "Billy" leaves behind to mourn his departure two brothers, Norman and Frank, and his father and mother. Interment took place at the Fruit Hill cemetery, Rev. Troutman conducting the services at the house and grave on Saturday the 21st, at two o'clock.

The stricken ones have the sympathy of every one in Carnwath. Truly the kingdom of heaven is enriched and made more attractive by Billy Hunt and earth is made more desolate. Where our treasures are there are our hearts also, and sometimes "A little child shall lead us."

EMMA KYLER

Died, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. E. Kyler of Shawville, Emma Kyler, aged eight years, three months and eighteen days. This little Emma had been ailing for some time her condition was not considered serious until in August when she became very ill and was taken to the Clearfield hospital where everything possible was done for her by the attending physician and nurses and she was brought home with great hopes for her complete recovery but the hopes of her loved ones soon had to be banished for it was evident that she was failing and that medicine and loving hands could not keep her here and on Saturday morning, December 14th, she became much worse and at 10 o'clock the beam of life came.

bore her away.

Little Emma will be sadly missed in the Sunday school and all our children's services here for she was a faithful attendant at church services and in spite of ill health she seldom was absent from Sabbath school. Ever since she could talk plainly she was one of the most beautiful speakers and always loved to sing the little Xmas songs and her sweet, clear voice could be heard always in the lead at all these services. The our hearts are saddened in the parting, yet we know that such a pure, sweet life as hers the short was not spent in vain, for it leaves a great incentive to her loved ones to "come up higher" for they have the assurance in His word that God does not willingly afflict us when he calls these little ones to him but they are precious to him and he only lends them to us until their mission here is fulfilled and instead of bidding her a sad good bye we repeat—

I think when I read
That sweet story of old
When Jesus was here among men
How he called little children
As lambs to his fold
I should like to have been
With him then.

I wish that His hands
Had been placed on my head
That His arms had been Thrown around me
And that I might have seen
His kind look when He said
Let the little ones
Come unto me.

We miss her—yes we miss her
The voice we loved is still
But up in Heaven we'll greet her,
To part we never will.

CHRISTMAS ENTERTAINMENT AT Y. M. C. A. AT 8 O'CLOCK

You are all cordially invited to attend the Christmas entertainment at the Y. M. C. A. under the Christmas community tree, which is beautifully decorated and illuminated with red, white and blue electric lights. The Edmiston sisters will entertain in music, song and reading. Miss Louise is the pianist, Miss Emily is the violinist and Miss Marilla, reader. Master Edward Edmiston will entertain in wrestling. Secretary Grafius will give a short talk on the four celebrations of Christmas he spent in Alaska and the Philippine Islands. The Y. M. C. A. building will be open all day as holidays are big association days. There will be two bowling matches in the morning and afternoon. Entertainment at 8 o'clock.

NOTICE

We will do all kinds of motor cycle repairing. We also carry a good line of supplies. Next door to Fourth Ward High house.

Lovers of good music who were not at the Presbyterian church Sunday evening missed a rare treat. The Cantata, "The Shepherds of Bethlehem" was rendered by a chorus of forty-five voices, Mrs. E. C. Reeve being the director, Miss Alice Smith organist, and Miss Margaret Wrigley pianist.

The harmonious blending of the trained voices with the skillfully played strains of the organ and piano with violin accompaniment was perfect. It was real singing. There was a reality about it that reflected the scenes at Bethlehem as if pictured by a great artist. One could fairly see the shepherds, their flocks and the green fields about the sacred city, while being described by the soloists and chorus. All music can be heard, but this could be felt. It was truly a picture in harmony.

The tenor solos by Mr. VanOsten were finely rendered and the contralto solo of Miss McGee was superb. Mrs. Sohn's solo and her duet with Mr. Van Osten delighted the audience. Her fascinating soprano voice never fails to captivate her Clearfield friends, and all who hear her. The bass solo of George Weaver was strong and dignified.

Much is expected of Mrs. Reeve as a soloist, and the singing of her soprano solo only served to add to her laurels as a singer of great talent. Mrs. Reeve directed the singing of the Cantata, and its success was largely due to her efforts and ability as a singer and director of music. The whole programme was an inspiration and the Presbyterian church is to be congratulated upon having in its membership so many beautiful voices, and one so talented as Mrs. Reeve to organize and direct them.

CHRISTMAS CAROLS THIS EVENING

Those of the Glee club and all others interested in the carol service will meet at the High school at 11:30 this evening for the purpose of participating in the Christmas carol service.

GREETINGS

With one exception, Christmas, 1918, is the most wonderful Christmas the world has ever seen. Peace reigns; there's a good will toward all men brought about by the closing of the world war; boys long separated from home and friends are in our midst again so in the words of Dickens' Tiny Tim we "Wish you—one and all—A MERRY CHRISTMAS."

Peace On Earth Good Will Toward Men

So universal is this message for Christmas, 1918, that one might think that the prophecies of old have been fulfilled.

And so to our wide circle of friends we send you this message of good cheer—A Merry, Merry Christmas.

ROSS & WOODS

Cattle Buying For Swift & Company

Swift & Company buys more than 9000 head of cattle on an average, every market day.

Each one of them is "sized up" by experts.

Both the packer's buyer and the commission salesman must judge what amount of meat each animal will yield, and how fine it will be, the grading of the hide, and the quantity and quality of the fat.

Both must know market conditions for live stock and meat throughout the country. The buyer must know where the different qualities, weights, and kinds of cattle can be best marketed as beef. If the buyer pays more than the animal is worth, the packer loses money on it. If he offers less, another packer, or a shipper or feeder, gets it away from him.

If the seller accepts too little, the live-stock raiser gets less than he is entitled to. If he holds out for more than it is worth, he fails to make a sale.

A variation of a few cents in the price per hundred pounds is a matter of vital importance to the packer, because it means the difference between profit and loss.

Universal Membership Means More Than Money

WATERED PRICES FOR WATERED LIQUOR

The Clearfield County Retail Liquor Dealers got together last week and decided to get a little more "easy money" by boosting the price of liquid refreshments.

The schedule called for the boosting of "run of the mine" or "kill me quick" generally styled "bar whiskey" to 20 cents, while "bonded goods," the stuff that was not supposed to be made upon the premises was to set the purchaser back twenty-five cents.

When the greedy, grasping, grinding committee put it up to the local tavern keepers, the Witmer Inn and Allegheny House proprietors promptly bucked and refused to elevate beyond present inflated prices. The stiff-bristled fellows stuck her out all day, but yesterday the house of cards began to tumble, some of the landlords deciding that both the whiskey and prices were watered enough at the old rates and went back on the price fixers. The result was a slash in prices and bonded goods were cut to $3.00 per quart and "run of the mine" $2.50 with retail prices at 15 and 20.

The brewery jumped their prices to $1.90 per case of 24 bottles and a corresponding increase in draught with the result that the "colored water" (or near-beer) went sky rocketing to 10c per glass and 15c per bottle.

Meanwhile the war is on and she's flowing gently about the town.

INTERNATIONAL NEWS CONVICTED PIRATE

Washington, Dec. 23.—In a decision which has a far reaching effect on newspaper work the Associated Press won its case in the United States Supreme Court against the Hearst International News Service on charges of pirating news. The court sustained the injunction granted in the lower courts to prevent the International News Service from "pirating" the Associated Press news dispatches. The court clearly emphasized that news was a commodity in which persons or organizations disseminate news as a property right. After stating that it is doubtful whether the class of news did not come under the copyright law Justice Pitney said "this is stock in trade with large and elaborate organizations to collect it for the purpose of profit." The case was decided by a vote of 5 to 3. Justice McKenna, Holmes and Brandies dissenting. Justice Clark took no part in the decision. Justice Brandies argued that the whole question should be decided by the legislative branches of the government, asserting there is no adequate law on the subject now.

XMAS GREETINGS FROM

BEN F. CHASE

That one Clearfield member of the "teufel hunden" is very much alive and doing his part in keeping order over there was evidenced by the receipt of a card by L. W. Pollack from Ben F. Chase who is with the marines in the town of Gievers, France. The card stated that Ben was well and apparently enjoying life aside from the exacting duties of the "leathernecks."

HUNGARIAN PREMIER TO RESIGN

MUNICH, Dec. 23.—Count Karolyi, head of the Hungarian cabinet, Saturday announced his intention to resign at Premier, a Budapest dispatch reported today.

Previous dispatches have quoted Karolyi as declaring lack of cooperation of the various political factions, together with the economic situation, would eventually force him to abandon control of the government.

Clark Mitchell, who has been in training as a naval reservist at Puget Sound, Washington, arrived home this morning. He has been placed on the inactive service list.

A TWICE-TOLD TALE

One of Interest to Our Readers Good news bears repeating, and when it is confirmed after a long lapse of time, even if we hesitated to believe it at first hearing, we feel secure in accepting its truth now. The following experience of a Clearfield woman is confirmed after eight years.

Mrs. James M. Gearhart, 905 South Fourth street, says: "I suffered for a long time with disordered kidneys. I had headaches and dizzy spells and a tired, languid feeling. I read about Doan's Kidney Pills and got a supply. After using two boxes my kidneys became normal and I felt better in every way. I am glad to recommend this remedy."

OVER EIGHT YEARS LATER Mrs. Gearhart said: "I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as highly as I ever did. They have helped me whenever I have used them and I wish to confirm my former statement."

MUSIC

THE spirit that hits your heart around Christmas Eve and Christmas morning---that carefree happy thoughtfulness for your neighbor, relatives, strangers, friends--can be made to live through-out your home all the year 'round ---a little music will do.

Music and happiness are one. That's why we invariably whistle or sing when our hearts are at ease and happiness holds full sway over us.

A piano in your home or a victrola will make every day Christmas day for you and all the family.

Why This Xmas. Is The Vital Time.

"You need a piano--your children deserve it. Then place one in your home now--for the child's musical education is more important than ever.

Here's a fair case. Assume that your children are 8 and 10 years old--and without yet having started their music.

"Now look ahead five years. The little ones are almost grown--13 and 15 years old. Both of them past the very best age for acquiring the foundation of a musical education. There is no way to make it up--and you must realize that had they been given the opportunity music would have played an important part in the forming of their characters which would reflect through their whole lives.

"You can have the piano now. No need to delay, for we will place one in your home to be paid for in easy payments that you will scarcely miss. And you'll realize more and more that each payment means really a payment for the very character and education of your children--an investment rather than an expense."

We can place an Estey, H. M. Cable or an Archer in your home between now and Xmas. It's merely a matter of taste which one you select--each is premier in tone, finish and honest make.

HUNGER DRAWS THE MAP

- Famine Conditions
- Food Shortage approaching famine point
- Serious Food Shortage
- Sufficient Present Food Supply But Future Serious
- Peoples already receiving American aid
- Unclassified

A food map of Europe today shows not a single country in which the future does not hold threat of serious difficulties and only a small part which is not rapidly approaching the famine point. With the exception of the Ukraine only those countries which have maintained marine commerce have sufficient food supplies to meet actual needs until next harvest, and even in the Ukraine, with stores accumulated on the farms, there is famine in the large centers of population.

Belgium and northern France, as well as Serbia, appear on the hunger map distinct from the rest of Europe because they stand in a different relation from the other nations to the people of the United States. America has for four years maintained the small war rations of Belgium and northern France and is already making special efforts to care for their increased needs after the war, which, with those of Serbia, must be included in this plan, are urgent in the extreme and must have immediate relief.

The gratitude of the Belgian nation for the help America has extended to her during the war constitutes the strongest appeal for us to continue our work there. The moment the German armies withdrew from her soil and she was left to her own resources, she was once more in her own seat of government the little nation's first thought was to express her gratitude to the Commission for Relief in Belgium for preserving the lives of millions of her citizens.

Germany, on the other hand, need not figure in such a map for Americans because there is no present indication that we shall be called on at all to take thought for the food needs of Germany. Germany probably can care for her own food problem if she is given access to shipping and is enabled to distribute food to the cities with dense populations, which are the trouble centers.

England, France, the Netherlands and Portugal, all of which have been maintained from American supplies, have sufficient food to meet immediate needs, but their future presents serious difficulties. The same is true of Spain and the northern neutral countries—Norway, Sweden and Denmark—whose ports have been open and who have been able to deny to some degree upon foreign supplies.

Most of Russia is already in the throes of famine, and to such people there are beyond the possibility of help. Before another spring thousands of them inevitably must die. This April, as well to Poland and Czechoslovakia, these nations the battle with conditions most serious in Finland.

Bolivia, Serbia, Rumania and Montenegro have already reached the famine point and are suffering a heavy toll of death. The Armenian population is falling each week as hunger takes its toll, and in Greece, Albania and Rumania so serious are the food shortages that famine is near. Although starvation is not yet imminent, Italy, Switzerland, Bulgaria and Turkey are in the throes of serious stringencies.

In order to fulfill America's pledge in world relief we will have to export every ton of food which can be handled through our ports. This means at the very least a minimum of 20,000,000 tons compared with 6,000,000 tons pre-war exports and 11,500,000 tons exported last year, when we were bound by the ties of war to the European allies.

If we fail to lighten the black spots on the hunger map or if we allow any port to become darker the very reason for which we fought and bled will be threatened. Revolt and anarchy inevitably follow famine. Should this happen we will see in other parts of Europe a repetition of the Russian debacle and our fight for world peace will have been in vain.

LETTERS FROM OUR TODAY'S CASUALTIES
SOLDIER BOYS

LETTER FROM BERYL H. REED

France,
Nov. 18, 1918.

Dear Dad:

I received four letters from home today including the one from you. About a week ago I received one from mother dated Oct. 3. The one I received today were all written in September therefore I learned of Carl Stealing's funeral before I knew what had killed him.

I suppose you know as much about the peace terms and the end of the war as we do. It hardly seems true but yet we expected it for some time, for no army could stand those terrible drives unless it had an awful strong body of men. The division that I was in went over the top just after I was sent here and was driving again the morning they stopped firing but we have not been able to learn how many of the boys were killed. I sometimes think I was lucky but would like to have been there just the same.

We do not know whether we will get commissions now or not but are still working hard. There are two more weeks yet.

This is a very nice country here but has been very cold. We are located near an old fort built many years ago with an old moat around the outside. Every hill over here has a fort on it with old trenches and walls. Between every field is a wall built for military purposes: the same way with all the woods. I can't tell you much about the cities and chateaus yet but have seen some very interesting places. One large church in a town where we were first under shell fire, was standing untouched, while every building around it was destroyed. This town had been shelled at different times for three years. The Boche had dropped two large aerial bombs on this church but both failed to explode. They were about 10 inches in diameter and over four feet long. They would have ruined the building had they exploded, but are now souvenirs. It was in this town that I first got these little friends of the boys of the A. E. F., "cooties," and I still have a few.

Did I ever tell you what it was like to be under shell fire? Well at first I did not realize the danger and laughed at the boys for getting unscathed, but when a shell hit near my billet one night and blew the entire house down I went in the "cophones" too. Then at the front there were so many shells falling all the time that we could not keep under cover but had to go thru them. When I went with the Intelligence Section up to the line to do scouting and observing, two corporals and I slept (when we had a chance) in an old Boche officers' quarters which had a kitchen and a bathroom. One night a big shell fell outside our door, kindly removing most of our kitchen but leaving three very badly scared kids untouched. A few nights later this place was so badly gassed that we had to move out for a while. The night before I came to the school a sergeant, who was a sniper, and I had been working late on the line so did not get to the kitchen until later than usual. Fritz began to shell our chow wagons with shrapnel which bursts in the air and if close is very dangerous. We were getting away very nicely with a few biscuits when one came hissing over the hill, whistled thru the top of a tree near us and exploded almost over our heads. The sergeant was severely wounded but I heard later he was getting better. I am sure glad it is all over now and that there will be no more artillery barrages or sweeping machine gun fires to face. It sounds very romantic in newspapers but is too real over here. Must close now and go to bed.

Best wishes to all,
BERYL H. REED.

LABOR STANDARDSSecretary Baker Deprecates
Lowering of Wages During Reconstruction.

LESSON LEARNED FROM WAR

Cabinet Officer Ascribes Victory Largely to Wise Labor Regulations Existing in This Country—Must Be No Retrogression.Secretary of War Baker, in an address at Washington before the annual meeting of the National Consumers' league, of which he is president,
said that in the reconstruction days
of peace there must be no depression
in wages, and that the same high standard of living existing during the war must be maintained.Secretary Baker said that, unless a better understanding and a more unselfish mode of general living resulted from the war, the fruits of victory
would be lost and the sacrifice of men
and money would have been in vain.
The reason the victory was ours, he said, was because the American people were strong and virile."If we in the past had overworked men and toilers and had taken children into the workshop and factories
had there not been a rising standard of living in America for those who toil, we would not have had the strong minds and bodies with which to meet
the emergency just past," said Mr.
Baker.

in nature and are the result of demands made by the workers for a fixed rate of daily wage instead of a piece schedule. Former workers in the munition plants are insisting upon the continuance of the "prosperity" wages
paid during the war, whereas the employers are now starting a piece production.When British girls at the beginning of the war became ambitious conductresses they agreed to give up their jobs as soon as the men whose places
they had taken returned from the battles. Many discharged soldiers, former bus conductors, are now applying for their old posts and the conductresses are peacefully making room for them. In many instances, it is said, the work has been too heavy for the girls, owing to the crush of pas-

And The Home of The FreeNo man or woman for generations upon generations can recall a Christmas Day like unto December 25th, 1918.The pealing of the Christmas chimes will have a new and finer significance to all mankind on this Christmas Day.Peace on Earth is today an accomplished fact—good will toward man must of necessity follow the sacrifices made by men and women of every nationality and every religious faith during the past four years.Men and women of every class and faith have come to know each other better, have come to have a higher and most lasting regard for each other.They have fought side by side—they have died side by side—they have forgotten everything that seemed or was a barrier in the past and have succeeded each other in the anguish and sorrows, and too, have helped and found pleasure in each other's wit and pleasanties.Truly this is a Christmas long to be remembered—and since the world war is at an end, allow us to extend to each and every one the compliments of the season, and wish you all
a Merry Christmas.

Universal Membership Means More Than Money

WATERED PRICES FOR WATERED LIQUOR

The Clearfield County Retail Liquor Dealers got together last week and decided to get a little more "easy money" by boosting the price of liquid refreshments.

The schedule called for the boosting of "run of the mine" or "kill me quick" generally styled "bar whiskey" to 20 cents, while "bonded goods," the stuff that was not supposed to be made upon the premises was to set the purchaser back twenty-five cents.

When the greedy, grasping, grinding committee put it up to the local tavern keepers, the Witmer Inn and Allegheny House proprietors promptly bucked and refused to elevate beyond present inflated prices. The stiff-bristled fellows stuck her out all day, but yesterday the house of cards began to tumble, some of the landlords deciding that both the whiskey and prices were watered enough at the old rates and went back on the price fixers. The result was a slash in prices and bonded goods were cut to $3.00 per quart and "run of the mine" $2.50 with retail prices at 15 and 20.

The brewery jumped their prices to $1.90 per case of 24 bottles and a corresponding increase in draught with the result that the "colored water" (or near-beer) went sky rocketing to 10c per glass and 15c per bottle.

Meanwhile the war is on and she's flowing gently about the town.

INTERNATIONAL NEWS CONVICTED PIRATE

Washington, Dec. 23.—In a decision which has a far reaching effect on newspaper work the Associated Press won its case in the United States Supreme Court against the Hearst International News Service on charges of pirating news. The court sustained the injunction granted in the lower courts to prevent the International News Service from "pirating" the Associated Press news dispatches. The court clearly emphasized that news was a commodity in which persons or organizations disseminate news as a property right. After stating that it is doubtful whether the class of news did not come under the copyright law Justice Pitney said "this is stock in trade with large and elaborate organizations to collect it for the purpose of profit." The case was decided by a vote of 5 to 3. Justice McKenna, Holmes and Brandies dissenting. Justice Clark took no part in the decision. Justice Brandies argued that the whole question should be decided by the legislative branches of the government, asserting there is no adequate law on the subject now.

BEN F. CHASE

That one Clearfield member of the "teufel hunden" is very much alive and doing his part in keeping order over there was evidenced by the receipt of a card by L. W. Pollack from Ben F. Chase who is with the marines in the town of Gievers, France. The card stated that Ben was well and apparently enjoying life aside from the exacting duties of the "leathernecks."

HUNGARIAN PREMIER TO RESIGN

MUNICH, Dec. 23.—Count Karolyi, head of the Hungarian cabinet, Saturday announced his intention to resign at Premier, a Budapest dispatch reported today.

Previous dispatches have quoted Karolyi as declaring lack of cooperation of the various political factions, together with the economic situation, would eventually force him to abandon control of the government.

Clark Mitchell, who has been in training as a naval reservist at Puget Sound, Washington, arrived home this morning. He has been placed on the inactive service list.

A TWICE-TOLD TALE

One of Interest to Our Readers
Good news bears repeating, and when it is confirmed after a long lapse of time, even if we hesitated to believe it at first hearing, we feel secure in accepting its truth now. The following experience of a Clearfield woman is confirmed after eight years.

Mrs. James M. Gearhart, 905 South Fourth street, says: "I suffered for a long time with disordered kidneys. I had headaches and dizzy spells and a tired, languid feeling. I read about Doan's Kidney Pills and got a supply. After using two boxes my kidneys became normal and I felt better in every way. I am glad to recommend this remedy."

OVER EIGHT YEARS LATER
Mrs. Gearhart said: "I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as highly as I ever did. They have helped me whenever I have used them and I wish to confirm my former statement."

MUSIC

THE spirit that hits your heart around Christmas Eve and Christmas morning---that carefree happy thoughtfulness for your neighbor, relatives, strangers, friends--can be made to live through-out your home all the year 'round ---a little music will do.

Music and happiness are one. That's why we invariably whistle or sing when our hearts are at ease and happiness holds full sway over us.

A piano in your home or a victrola will make every day Christmas day for you and all the family.

Why This Xmas. Is The Vital Time.

"You need a piano--your children deserve it. Then place one in your home now--for the child's musical education is more important than ever."

Here's a fair case. Assume that your children are 8 and 10 years old--and without yet having started their music.

"Now look ahead five years. The little ones are almost grown--13 and 15 years old. Both of them past the very best age for acquiring the foundation of a musical education. There is no way to make it up--and you must realize that had they been given the opportunity music would have played an important part in the forming of their characters which would reflect through their whole lives."

"You can have the piano now. No need to delay, for we will place one in your home to be paid for in easy payments that you will scarcely miss. And you'll realize more and more that each payment means really a payment for the very character and education of your children--an investment rather than an expense."

We can place an Estey, H. M. Cable or an Archer in your home between now and Xmas. It's merely a matter of taste which one you select--each is premier in tone, finish and honest make.

Whether

HUNGER DRAWS THE MAP

- Famine Conditions
- Food Shortage approaching famine point
- Serious Food Shortage
- Sufficient Present Food Supply But Future Serious
- Peoples already receiving American aid
- Unclassified

DECEMBER 1, 1918

A food map of Europe today shows not a single country in which the future does not hold threat of serious difficulties and only a small part which is not rapidly approaching the famine point. With the exception of the Ukraine only those countries which have maintained marine commerce have sufficient food supplies to meet actual needs until next harvest, and even in the Ukraine, with stores accumulated on the farms, there is famine in the large centers of population.

Belgium and northern France, as well as Serbia, appear on the hunger map distinct from the rest of Europe because they stand in a different relation from the other nations to the people of the United States. America has for four years maintained the small war rations of Belgium and northern France and is already making special efforts to care for their increased needs after the war ends, which, with those of Serbia, must be included in this plan, are urgent in the extreme and must have immediate relief.

The gratitude of the Belgian nation for the help America has extended to her during the war constitutes the strongest appeal for us to continue our work there. The moment the German armies withdrew from her soil and she was left to her own resources, she was once more in her own seat of government the little nation's first thought was to express her gratitude to the Commission for Relief in Belgium for preserving the lives of millions of her citizens.

Germany, on the other hand, need not figure in such a map for Americans because there is no present indication that we shall be called on at all to take thought for the food needs of Germany. Germany probably can care for her own food problem if she is given access to shipping and is enabled to distribute food to the cities with dense populations, which are the trouble centers.

England, France, the Netherlands and Portugal, all of which have been maintained from American supplies, have sufficient food to meet immediate needs, but their future presents serious difficulties. The same is true of Spain and the northern neutral countries—Norway, Sweden and Denmark—whose ports have been open and who have been able to deny to some degree upon foreign supplies.

Most of Russia is already in the throes of famine, and to such people there are beyond the possibility of help. Before another spring thousands of them inevitably must die. This April, as well to Poland and Czechoslovakia, these nations the battle with conditions most serious in Finland.

Bolivia, Serbia, Rumania and Montenegro have already reached the famine point and are suffering a heavy toll of death. The Armenian population is falling each week as hunger takes its toll, and in Greece, Albania and Rumania so serious are the food shortages that famine is near. Although starvation is not yet imminent, Italy, Switzerland, Bulgaria and Turkey are in the throes of serious stringencies.

In order to fulfill America's pledge in world relief we will have to export every ton of food which can be handled through our ports. This means at the very least a minimum of 20,000,000 tons compared with 6,000,000 tons pre-war exports and 11,500,000 tons exported last year, when we were bound by the ties of war to the European allies.

If we fail to lighten the black spots on the hunger map or if we allow any port to become darker the very reason for which we fought and bled will be threatened. Revolt and anarchy inevitably follow famine. Should this happen we will see in other parts of Europe a repetition of the Russian debacle and our fight for world peace will have been in vain.

FOR LUMBAGO

Try Musterole. See How Quickly It Relieves

You just rub Musterole in briskly, and usually the pain is gone—a delicious, soothing comfort comes to take its place. Musterole is a clean, white ointment made with oil of mustard. Use it instead of mustard plaster. Will not blister.

Many doctors and nurses use Musterole and recommend it to their patients. They will gladly tell you what relief it gives from sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bites, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). Always dependable.

30 and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50.

LETTERS FROM OUR TODAY'S CASUALTIES
SOLDIER BOYS

LETTER FROM BERYL H. REED

France,
Nov. 18, 1918.

Dear Dad:

I received four letters from home today including the one from you. About a week ago I received one from mother dated Oct. 3. The one I received today were all written in September therefore I learned of Carl Stealing's funeral before I knew what had killed him.

I suppose you know as much about the peace terms and the end of the war as we do. It hardly seems true but yet we expected it for some time, for no army could stand those terrible drives unless it had an awful strong body of men. The division that I was in went over the top just after I was sent here and was driving again the morning they stopped firing but we have not been able to learn how many of the boys were killed. I sometimes think I was lucky but would like to have been there just the same.

We do not know whether we will get commissions now or not but are still working hard. There are two more weeks yet.

This is a very nice country here but has been very cold. We are located near an old fort built many years ago with an old moat around the outside. Every hill over here has a fort on it with old trenches and walls. Between every field is a wall built for military purposes: the same way with all the woods. I can't tell you much about the cities and chateaus yet but have seen some very interesting places. One large church in a town where we were first under shell fire, was standing untouched, while every building around it was destroyed. This town had been shelled at different times for three years. The Boche had dropped two large aerial bombs on this church but both failed to explode. They were about 10 inches in diameter and over four feet long. They would have ruined the building had they exploded, but are now souvenirs. It was in this town that I first got these little friends of the boys of the A. E. F., "cooties," and I still have a few.

Did I ever tell you what it was like to be under shell fire? Well at first I did not realize the danger and laughed at the boys for getting uneasy, but when a shell hit near my billet one night and blew the entire house down I went in the "gopher holes" too. Then at the front there were so many shells falling all the time that we could not keep under cover but had to go thru them. When I went with the Intelligence Section up to the line to do scouting and observing, two corporals and I slept (when we had a chance) in an old Boche officers' quarters which had a kitchen and a bathroom. One night a big shell fell outside our door, kindly removing most of our kitchen but leaving three very badly scared kids untouched. A few nights later this place was so badly gassed that we had to move out for a while. The night before I came to the school a sergeant, who was a sniper, and I had been working late on the line so did not get to the kitchen until later than usual. Fritz began to shell our chow wagons with shrapnel which bursts in the air and if close is very dangerous. We were getting away very nicely with a few biscuits when one came hissing over the hill, whistled thru the top of a tree near us and exploded almost over our heads. The sergeant was severely wounded but I heard later he was getting better. I am sure glad it is all over now and that there will be no more artillery barrages or sweeping machine gun fires to face. It sounds very romantic in newspapers but is too real over here. Must close now and go to bed.

Best wishes to all,

BERYL H. REED.

LETTER FROM JOHN BARRY

Mr. and Mrs. John Barry, of Hillsdale, received the following letter from their son Sergeant John Barry, of the 4th Co. 5th Regiment, U. S. Marine Corps. Sergeant Barry enlisted in the Marines with the late John Shady just shortly after war was declared to exist and has seen through all the historic battles of the Marines. He was promoted to sergeant for valorous work on the field and has safely passed through all the hell dotted upon the Marines without a wound or injury of the slightest degree by nature.

On The Way To The Line

Nov. 21, 1918

Dear Parents:

It has been some time since I have heard from you and I am sure you have been worried but I am sure you have been too busy to write.

Well I am sure you will be happy to hear from me and I will be happy to hear from you when I get home, when I think all things will be before long.

I am now on my way to the front and will not write much, so don't worry. I remain your loving son.

I saw it in The Progress.

MUST MAINTAIN
LABOR STANDARDS

Secretary Baker Deprecates
Lowering of Wages During Reconstruction.

LESSON LEARNED FROM WAR

Cabinet Officer Ascribes Victory Largely to Wise Labor Regulations Existing in This Country—Must
Be No Retrogression.

Secretary of War Baker, in an address at Washington before the annual meeting of the National Consumers' league, of which he is president,
said that in the reconstruction days
of peace there must be no depression
in wages, and that the same high standard of living existing during the war must be maintained.

Secretary Baker said that, unless a better understanding and a more unselfish mode of general living resulted
from the war, the fruits of victory
would be lost and the sacrifice of men
and money would have been in vain.
The reason the victory was ours, he said, was because the American people were strong and virile.

"If we in the past had overworked men and toilers and had taken children into the workshop and factories,
had there not been a rising standard
of living in America for those who toil, we would not have had the strong
minds and bodies with which to meet
the emergency just past," said Mr.
Baker.

GENERAL LABOR NEWS

Toronto airplane woodworkers have secured 65 cents an hour.

For every 100 workers in the factories in Sweden there are 23 women.
I. W. W. printed matter will not be permitted to enter Canada from the United States.

High rate of labor consideration declared for a women's minimum wage law.

Consideration is being given in Boston to a proposal to close stores for an hour at noon.

Women are now eligible to membership in the Canadian Railway Mail Clubs' association.

Official Japanese figures list 507 electric railways and 45 combined power and railway companies in that country.

The jewelry factories in Attleboro,
Mass., are to be converted into institutions where returned soldiers may obtain employment.

Men's clothing in Austria-Hungary now costs from $250 to $300 a suit, while women's fashionable gowns average from $300 to $400 each.

Owing to trouble between the long-shoremen's union and the shipping federation and a strike of coal handlers, shipping at St. Johns, N. B., was halted.

Trade unionism has finally been officially established in the Winnipeg, Canada, police system. The council, by a vote of 8 to 0, sanctioned the union force.

Increased efficiency is reported as a result of the operation of the eight-hour law which became operative in the lumber regions of Washington January 1, 1918.

Both in Tokio and Osaka (Japan) police departments a woman has been appointed to investigate the causes of infant disease and to work out plans for the relief of poor women.

Twenty years of labor by an army of 100,000 men will be required to restore northern France to its present condition, Stephanie Lammann, editor of Le Matin of Paris, told an audience at New York. France will not furnish that army, nor will she supply the material necessary to reconstruct the 250-000 buildings destroyed by the German invaders. Germany must do that, he declared.

Unorganized strikes have broken out in several of the large plants around Berlin. They are wholly local in nature and are the result of demands made by the workers for a fixed
rate of daily wage instead of a piece schedule. Former workers in the munition plants are insisting upon the continuance of the "prosperity" wages
paid during the war, whereas the employers are now starting a piece production.

When British girls at the beginning of the war became ambitious conductresses they agreed to give up their jobs as soon as the men whose places
they had taken returned from the battles. Many discharged soldiers, former bus conductors, are now applying for their old posts and the conductresses are peacefully making
room for them. In many instances, it
the girls, owing to the crush of passengers.

High schools all over the country have suffered from the demand for men of scientific training for service in munition plants. The changed warfare branch of the army and the Red Cross has made it particularly apparent.

The gigantic concrete shipbuilding plant operated for the Emergency Fleet Corporation at Mobile, Ala., by the Fred T. Leland company will be a permanent fixture, according to General Manager H. C. Stedley. All concrete ships constructed for war have been and will be built in this yard under their own steam.

Paul Shaw is here from New York City and will spend Christmas with his mother Mrs. T. H. Shaw, corner Weaver and William streets.

Peace On Earth
Good Will Toward Men

The Star Spangled Banner
Long May She Wave
O'er The Land of The Brave
And The Home of The Free

No man or woman for generations upon generations can recall a Christmas Day like unto December 25th, 1918.

The pealing of the Christmas chimes will have a new and finer significance to all mankind on this Christmas Day.

Peace on Earth is today an accomplished fact—good will toward man must of necessity follow the sacrifices made by men and women of every nationality and every religious faith during the past four years.

Men and women of every class and faith have come to know each other better, have come to have a higher and most lasting regard for each other.

The have fought side by side—they have died side by side—they have forgotten everything that seemed or was a barrier in the past and have succeeded each other in the anguish and sorrows, and too, have helped and found pleasure in each other's wit and pleasanties.

Truly this is a Christmas long to be remembered—and since the world war is at an
a Merry Christmas.
